A METHOD FOR COORDINATING RELATIONSHIPS BETWEEN MULTIPLE PHYSICAL ENTITIES

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

5   Two objects are identified. A relationship between the two objects is determined. A contract object is used to represent the relationship between the objects. The contract is useful in many applications: for example, file systems, relational databases, and spreadsheets. The contract can also have rules for processing events occurring to either of the objects related by the contract.

MJM Do. No. 6647-49